A close-up photograph of a hand holding a metal gear assembly. The assembly consists of a cylindrical metal housing with a gear mounted on a shaft. A metal component, possibly a pin or a small gear, is attached to the side of the housing. This component has the number '2009090082' stamped on it. The background is a light-colored, textured surface, possibly a workbench or floor, with some debris and a piece of paper visible.
